

NICHOLAS BARONE

Reprimanded on July 19, 2004 (180 N.J. 518) for engaging in conflicts of interest on two occasions by simultaneously representing the driver and passenger in automobile negligence matters.

Moreover, after filing the complaints, the respondent allowed them to be dismissed and took no further steps to have them reinstated, thereby engaging in gross neglect, lack of diligence and failure to communicate with clients. Kenneth F. D'Amato appeared before the DRB for District XI and David B. Rubin appeared for respondent.
